

BARBARA B. STERN
LEXINGTON CENTER FOR RECOVERY/
PARTNERSHIP INNOVATION FOR OLDER ADULTS PROGRAM

Barbara Stern is currently a certified Substance Abuse Counselor for the past ten years at Lexington Center specializing in older adults.

Previously she was the Owner/Executive Director of Sylvan Learning Centers in Westchester and Adjunct Professor of Education at Manhattanville College and Pace University.

Presently she is the Substance Abuse member of the Partnership Innovation for Older Adults Program here in Westchester joined by Family Services of Westchester and the TIPS Program of Westchester County Senior Services. This is a New York State grant program to eight counties providing at home services to aid adults 55 and older. Focus is to help older adults find the needed services to maintain a dignified lifestyle within their community.

This program is in its third year of operation and Barbara has enjoyed spreading the word of the Partnership services and creating an awareness of the increased needs of services in our area and helping people to maintain a healthy lifestyle.
