American Goju Karate teaches self-awareness and positive self-esteem through personal development skills, respect for authority and following direction. Each student is expected, regardless of age, to help instruct others, thereby putting the emphasis on helping, instead of hurting others. Our children are tomorrow's leaders. By providing the skills and self-discipline that strive toward Personal Excellence, we believe this type of training leads our minds and hearts in the direction of developing Respect and Traditional Values. Positive reinforcement is imperative.
